How to Use or How not to Use a Mobile Phone

Mobile phones are very popular among teens. They always use them to keep in touch with their friends. They can call and text each other whenever and whoever they like. However, most teens don't know how to use their mobile phones appropriately. In the modern world, the need to communicate is a hot topic but you have to respect the others as well. You shouldn't disturb the others while talking on the phone. Unfortunately, most teens don't realize that they are disturbing the others. You have to speak politely on the phone. Some teens send and receive text messages at the cinema during a movie. This is so rude. You cannot use your mobile phone while the others are watching a movie. While walking on the street, you shouldn't look at your mobile too much. You may just hit someone and harm them. What is more you may also put yourself in danger. You may have a car accident if you look at your phone too much. Don't listen to music loudly with your mobile. You may want to listen to music but you have to respect the others. Don't forget that they might not want to listen to the songs which you are fond of. In a public place, we have to pay more attention. We just don't want to disturb the people around us.

3 According to the passage, most teens

- A) don't prefer using mobile phones to keep in touch with their friends
- B) notice that they are disturbing the others while talking on the phone
- C) don't know how to use a mobile phone properly and politely
- D) know that the other people might like the music they love

4 While you're walking on the street,

- A) looking at your mobile too much may harm you
- B) you shouldn't respect the others about communication
- C) you can speak with a headphone according to the writer
- D) you never disturb the others if you make your phone conversation

5 Which one is wrong according to the passage?

- A) Looking at your mobile while walking is too dangerous
- B) Texting at the cinema during a movie is not a rude behaviour at all.
- C) It is possible that you might have a car accident if you look at your phone too much.
- D) The need to communicate is a very popular topic of the modern world.

6

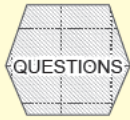

People first used text messages in 1992. They called the service SMS (Short Message Service). It soon became popular because text messages are cheap, fast and fun. Now, people send nearly 10 million text messages a day in Turkey.

Which one is true according to the text?

- A) In Turkey, nearly half of the people prefer text messages to communicate.
- B) Sending text messages isn't an easy communication way for Turkish people.
- C) SMS is a popular way of communication because it's not expensive and boring.
- D) SMS is the most preferred communication way among Turkish people.

THE INTERNET

UNIT 5

1

Hi, friends! I am Zoey. I want to talk about the Internet. I think it is very important in our lives and we use it for different reasons. We can do almost everything on the Net. We can download videos, DVDs, files and photos, send e-mails with attachments, browse the Internet to read information, chat with friends, practice foreign language, create an account, upload profile picture and share photos, videos on social networking sites and so on. In our house, we have got one computer and everyone in my family uses it. But I have got a smartphone and I mostly use it to connect to the Internet. I'm fond of watching foreign series and popular music videos. I also chat with my friends online and do online shopping. However, my mom doesn't allow me to use the Net for long hours.

Rob Gareth: Some people in the UK spend thirty to forty hours a week on the social networking sites. They get lost in these sites. They forget to eat and they lose all sense of time. They're always online, and they can't do without using it. Are they addicted?

Professor Hemingway: Well, these symptoms are serious but they are not enough to call it an addiction. I think it's the same as any other hobbies, like collecting stamps. People usually want to do something too much when they're doing it. But that doesn't mean that they're addicted. However, there are some disadvantages of those sites. People can spend too much time using them, ignore their families and work obligations, but it isn't common. There are very few addicted people.

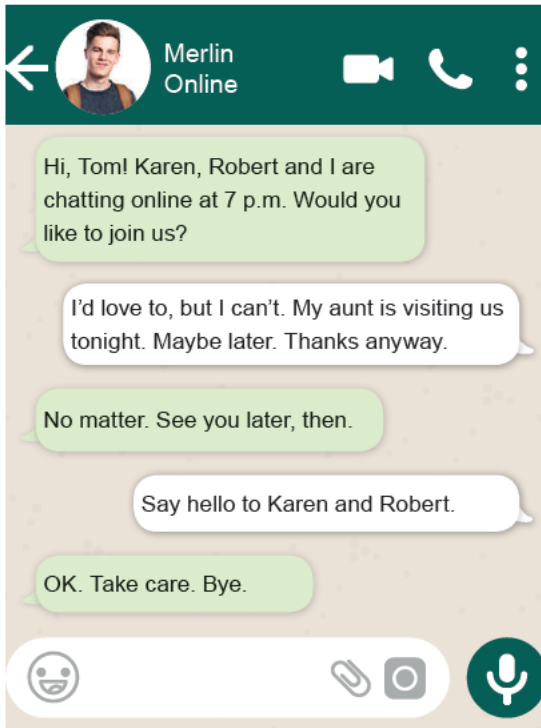

Rob Gareth: What can we do to avoid this addiction?

Professor Hemingway: You should be careful about the time you spend online. Set a time limit and stick to it.

According to the interview between Rob Gareth and Professor Hemingway, what can be said?

- A) Professor Hemingway thinks lots of people are addicted to social networking sites.
- B) Rob Gareth wants to learn about how people become addicted to social networking sites.
- C) To Professor Hemingway, people can't be social networking site addicts because those sites are harmless.
- D) Professor Hemingway gives some advice to prevent addiction to social networking sites.
